Privacy policy:-

Protecting the Privacy - All information submitted by the callers to the website of Prime- Insurance Company Limited shall be defended. Prime- Insurance Company Limited is committed to guarding the privacy, confidentiality, delicacy, and security of the particular information that it collects, uses, retains, and discloses in the course of conducting business. This privacy policy will cover the data handed by you and will be used for purposes of recycling your operation, the assessment and processing of claims, and any other administration applicable to any policy issued by Prime- Insurance Company Limited. By using this website you agree to the terms of this privacy statement.

Security Measures:

Only the authorized person force has access to your information. Our systems and procedures are designed to help the loss, abuse, unauthorized access, exposure, revision, and destruction of your information. Our commitment to security extends to the contracts and agreements that we subscribe to with external suppliers and service providers. We'll only retain your information for as long as needed for the purposes for which it was collected and/ or any legal or nonsupervisory conditions.

Use of the Information Collected:-

The information collected by us includes your contact information similar to your name, address, dispatch address, and other details as given in the enrollment run of our website. If you buy a policy from us we will collect financial information similar to credit card numbers and expiration date through the payment gateway of the card company or the Internet banking service of your bank. We also collect information similar to device name, address, and your relationship to the device when you buy a policy from us. This is needed to maintain a record of your device details for your insurance with us.

We may collect and use your particular information to;

- identify you.
- understand your requirements.
- confirm your operation information and assess your eligibility for products and services.
- probe and settle your claims, and determine your eligibility for benefits.
- give information that may be of interest to you.
- meet nonsupervisory conditions.